Why The Germans Want Indemnities From America

(From "Life")

To defray the cost of shells used in killing American Red Cross ambulance drivers.
To pay for gas bombs dropped on American doctors.
To reimburse the Imperial German Government for cost of torpedoes that sank the Lusitania.
To pay for the crushed glass placed in American Red Cross landings by German spies.
To replace in the Imperial Treasury the five hundred million dollars expended on German propaganda in America.

The Advancement of Agricultural Education

The promotion of welfare of the agricultural community was a basis for the industrial and commercial prosperity of the country, was the subject stated at the Parliament of Canada when, in 1914, at the instance of the then Minister of Agriculture, The Honourable Martin Burrell, it adopted the measure known as the Agricultural Instruction Act. By means of this Act the sum of ten million dollars was set apart for distribution among the provinces over a period of ten years to provide for a greater extension of instruction and education for those engaged in farming.

An investigation made prior to the introduction of the measure has revealed two outstanding deficiencies in connection with agricultural development. In the first instance, the response to the teachings of colleges of agriculture and extended farm was too slow to effect an immediate and noteworthy improvement in the conditions surrounding farm life. The second weakness was found in the fact that the educational system was too slow to adapt the country's educational system to the specific requirements of country boys and girls. The form of instruction was the same whether the child was destined for employment in the country or in the town.

The placing of funds at the disposal of the provinces in the manner indicated has led to a much wider extension of instructional work among the men and women and boys and girls who are living on the land. A marked development of the short course idea has resulted in the extension of courses in agricultural topics and in household science throughout the country. These courses are designed not only for farmers and their wives but for the young men and women who have left school and are about to actively enter upon the affairs of life. In this respect themselves attempt to be made to develop a system of instruction which will utilize the objects associated with rural life as a medium through which to educate the child. In the higher departments of education, the efficiency of the provincial colleges of agriculture has been promoted, and, in several provinces, at least, schools of intermediate grade, as between the public school and the agricultural college, have been established. The object of these special schools is to provide vocational training in agriculture and household science. As time goes on and their usefulness is demonstrated, it is certain that, owing to the financial assistance given by the Act, their influence will be greatly extended. Now wide a field is being covered by agricultural instruction work is indicated in a pamphlet just issued by the Dominion Commissioner of Agriculture in Canada, Mr. W. A. Black. It is entitled "Agricultural Instruction in Canada," and a copy may be had on application to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

"Joan The Woman"

The New York World has the following to say of the remarkable "Joan The Woman" pictures, which are to be shown at the opera house on the night of March the 14th—Thursday next.
"The producers have accomplished in 'Joan The Woman' that which many have striven for and few believed since the day of the first two dollar attraction; a combination of the human interest and spectacular, so intelligently welded as to give complete satisfaction and to be fully worthy its classification as a high grade piece of theatrical entertainment offered at corresponding prices. 'Joan The Woman' is receiving its effects.
As you sit in your chair you are alternately swayed by the grim struggle of battle, the thrill of conquest, the tragedy of the unjust death meted out to Joan of France. You think it all, because of the magnificent inspirational perfor-ance of Geraldine Farrar, you feel inspired yourself. It is because of Miss Farrar as the Heaven-sent Joan, that the picture possesses such remarkable qualities.

The first half of the picture runs to the spectacular, the second gives you the tragic downfall of Joan. After the thrills and sensations of the battle to which the story of personal interest is difficult to apply to even the most accomplished actor. Miss Farrar rises to the occasion triumphantly and in truth saves the picture from being too heavy.
"Joan The Woman" is a triumph for Geraldine Farrar, but equally as much it is a triumph for Cecil De Mille, its producer. Through his long picture he has interpolated the personal and the spectacular with the first result of dramatic contrast. The first half of the picture closes after the battle of Orleans has been waged with all the fierceness of reality between the French on the one side and the Burgundians and the English on the other. Here Mr. De Mille has spiced his work to every nook and corner of the immense field covered by the camera. The battle begins with a sweeping charge of the French led by Joan across the picket works of the English up to the very walls of the castle."

A Truck for the Farmer

FARM equipment which will effect a time and labor saving, and therefore a money-saving, must be carefully considered by every good farmer now-a-days.

The farm wagon, which for years was the most useful of all farm equipment, is now being replaced on the best farms by a sturdy, dependable motor truck. The truck will haul any farm product—fruit, grain, vegetables, stock, fertilizer, or wood—around the farm, or to the town or city many miles distant, in half the time, and at a much lower cost.

The Ford One-Ton truck is a rapid, economical and very serviceable means of transport. One of these on your farm will save you weeks of time in a single season and will enable you to pass through a crisis of labor shortage with less difficulty.

The Ford truck is supplied as a chassis only. This permits you to select any of the many body styles especially designed for the Ford truck and already on the market. Thus you can mount the one which suits your individual requirements.

Price $750 f.o.b. Ford, Ont.

Out of The Trenches

This poem was found by a Canadian lieutenant, W. G. Gaxter, of the 18th battalion, stationed in Flanders, while censoring the mails. The author is unknown.
"The mud's knee deep in the trenches,
An' me bones isaked w' the cold;
An' I warn me 'ands at the charcoal tin

"Fore ever I takes a 'old
Of me soul-moored service rifle;
"Ow the forelight lolly shines
An' sends a message of love an' peace
Into the German lines:

"Ping! That's a Merry Christmas.
An' all as we 'ave to eat
Oh for the sight 'o the mistletoe
Bough;

An' a good mince-pie or two.
Jimmy, 'e's got the girl on 'is knee,
An' Billy 'e 'wags me beer;
But I'm havin' a 'ell o' a time, you bet,
Fottin' the Germans 'ere.

I've frodden right through to the narrow,
An' me coat's been wet for a week,
For you ain't got time for a wash an' brush.

When the guns begin to speak
We're ahead o' the commissariat stuff,
An' all as we 'ave to eat
Is Rotty soaked to a slob's mud,
An' 'Arriet him for meat.

"Ping! That's 'ow are you farin'?"
"Ping! That's 'ow you're blue
But I'd sell me soul for a slice o' goose.
An' a glass o' sherry wine.

Jimmy, 'e's 'avin' 'is pals alone,
An' Billy 'e 'cops the brew;
But I'm 'avin' a 'ell o' a time just now
Bein' me country through.

But, 'struth it's a Merry Christmas
We're in the trenches yet;
Though our 'ands is froze till it's 'ard to shoot,
An' the socks in our boots is wet.

But me, I couldn't be 'appy
Alongside o' a fire tonight,
When I 'knows full well as I'm 'in and strong.

An' 'is for the 'ardest fight.
"Ping! That's a Merry Christmas!
"Ping! That's a glad New Year!
But the missus an' kids feel safe to-night—
They wouldn't if we weren't 'ere.

Jimmy, 'e's smokin' a black cheroot,
An' Billy a fat cigar;

But I'm 'avin' a 'ell o' a time, you bet,
An' I'm d—n glad that I'm d—n.

Cowley Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bowerman have returned from California.

Mrs. Milton Robinson is at present very seriously ill, we regret to say.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cleland have moved to their ranch in the Porcupines.

Mrs. Warren Fulton is taking charge of the senior room of the high school. She will teach until Mr. Hargrove is able to resume his duties again.

The Red Cross Juniors made another shipment of hospital effects to headquarters recently. The juniors are faithfully 'sneaking to their knitting.' A number of them are doing beautiful work.

The go, here are out in good numbers now, mobilizing for the spring attack. From all appearances they will be in full force by the time the grain is served. Little is being done to check their advancing armies.

A masquerade dance will be given in aid of the Red Cross in the Masonic hall on March the 15th. Coleman orchestra will furnish the music for the evening. Prizes will be given for the best costume and the best comedian. Most everyone is looking forward to this event with keenest interest.

On account of being drafted in the United States army, R. V. Imhoff held a sale of his farming outfit, stock and household effects at the Meade Ranch on March 6th, which was very successful. Lunch was served on the grounds by the Livingstone branch of the Red Cross, followed by a dance in the evening, which was also very well attended.

Painted and powdered, so that he resembled a man of 50 rather than a youth of 23, Leonard E. Sullivan got past the military guard at the Windsor ferry dock and crossed to Detroit.

Miss Trotter, who is in charge of the educational department of Alberta University and a lady of unlimited merit, brought down the house on every appearance. Miss Larum, of Pincher, was never in better form, and sang on several occasions. Master Parker Larum, a boy of about thirteen, sang very appreciably on two occasions. Miss Williams and Miss Larum presided in turn at the piano. The hall was packed to standing and everyone fully enjoyed the entertainment.

As a result of the war Norway has lost no less than 736 craft, representing a tonnage of 1,064,821. Seamen to the number of 602 perished in the disasters. In addition 53 vessels with crews aggregating more than 700 are missing.

One of the great difficulties which editors have to contend with is the tendency of those who are supposed to contribute news to a newspaper's columns to forget all about the news and to air their opinions instead. A striking example of this is furnished by an American journal, which quotes this as having been sent in by a country correspondent: "There has been several weddings in Rectory since Saturday, but I have forgotten the names of the whole push. They were all good folks, but I bet they will be sorry they married when they go to house-keeping—things are so high."

The news of Superintendent Cotterell's removal from this division of the C.P.R. to Medicine Hat main-line division came somewhat as a surprise to people of The Pass. It was mainly through Supt. Cotterell's engineering that the road over the Slide was improved last year. Acting upon his plans an enormous amount of rock was removed, permitting of a straighter and easier grade, over which trains could easily travel without the push engine. He had also planned to enlarge the roundhouse and sidings at Frank, which plans included the walling-up and straightening of the river, over which bridges and sidings were to be built in order to accommodate the great shipments of coal accumulating from the several mining camps of the district. It is firmly believed that such plans will yet be carried into effect.

Increase in Cost of Transmissions

It has been found that the charge previously stipulated (25c) for the forwarding of correspondence from Canada to enemy and enemy occupied territory through the medium of Thos. Cook & Son, Montreal, does not cover the cost of such transmission, and in future the charge for forwarding such correspondence will be 35c per letter.

This amount is to be remitted by means of a Postal Note, together with the letter which is to be forwarded, to Thos. Cook & Son, 530 St. Catherine Street West, Montreal, who will furnish a copy of the regulations to be observed in sending such correspondence. When writing Thos. Cook & Son a stamped addressed envelope must be enclosed if a reply is desired.

Too much attention cannot be paid to the regulations governing this correspondence, as any item which contravenes these regulations in any way will not be transmitted.

W. J. Huston is spending a few days with friends at Maycroft.
